

Welcome!

Welcome to the students, teachers, and librarians of Hawthorne, New Jersey! We're happy you are using Infotopia.info and Kidtopia.info for your research needs!

Literary Criticism Resources

The Internet Public Library has links to excellent sources for Literary Criticism. You can search by Author's Last Name, by Title, by Literary Period, and by Country of Origin (American, British, Canadian, French, Italian, Irish, German, Russian, Latin America, Spanish, Chinese, Japanese, and more).

Willkommen auf unserer neuen deutschen Seite!

(Welcome to our new German page.)

We have added German to our growing list of resources for studying languages. Infotopia has links to French, German, Spanish, and American Sign Language. Send us an email and let us know which language we should select next for a new resource page.

Do you read the "About Photo" link on Infotopia every day? If you hover over it, you get a description of the picture of the day. If you click on it, you get a video or web site that delves into more information about the photo. Try it! Send us an email about your favorite photo, or request a favorite scene or topic to be included in the future. (bell@infotopia.info)

Are you interested in astronomy? Explore our new page of resources on astronomy. Infotopia's Astronomy page has astronomy videos, biographies of famous astronomers, science fair projects that deal with astronomy, and more! Check it out!

Do your students read the top news stories of the day? It’s a great way to learn geography, languages, history, politics, and more. Have your students select an online newspaper from our news resources and share an article with the class. Does the article satisfy the 5 W’s of good news reporting?

When did it take place?

Where did it take place?

What happened?

Who was involved?

Why did it happen?

How did it happen?

Kidtopia

Kidtopia includes resources from the American Library Association’s collection of “Great Websites for Kids.” You can find Animals, The Arts, Biographies, History, Reference Desk, Sciences, and Social Sciences. Below are the Mathematics and Computers links.
