If you are a new teacher or if you are mentoring a new teacher, be sure to check out TeacherTopia.info, designed to provide resources, lesson plans and more for K-12 teachers. We recently updated our resources/links, which include Science, Social Studies, Language Arts, Math, The Arts, Health/P.E., Technology, and Foreign Languages. Each topic is broken down into specific subject areas that are taught in schools today.

Some of our favorite teacher resources include the following:

Annenberg Learner

Welcome!

Welcome to the students and teachers of Jackson, Mississippi! We're happy you are using Infotopia.info, Infotrek.info and Kidtopia.info for your research needs!

Send us a request for resources needed for topics for the next school year! Just send an email to bell@infotopia.info and be very detailed on your resource needs!

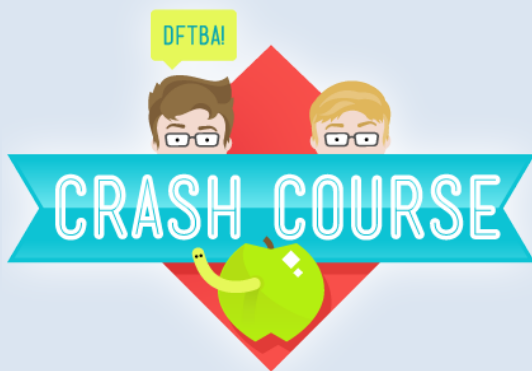

Based on your requests, we have posted two new resources on preparing for the SAT and ACT, as well as free practice tests for the PSAT, SAT and ACT. Find out what kinds of questions to expect, how to prepare for the tests, what to expect on the day of the test.

Quirky, fast-paced, and fun, Crash Course might be just the ticket to get some of your high school students interested in a topic. The Green Brothers and their expanding staff have created free courses in the following topics:

Anatomy
Astronomy
Big History
Biology
Chemistry
Ecology
Economics
Government
Intellectual Property
Literature
Psychology
U.S. History
World History I
World History II

Crash Course Kids has a new channel for 5th grade Science, with new videos being produced as the channel grows.

If you are not familiar with Crash Course, definitely preview a course or two before you assign it to your students! (It's not your usual teaching channel.)
