Are your students researching natural disasters?
Our resources include information about all of the following:

- Hurricanes
- Droughts
- Tsunamis
- Earthquakes
- Floods
- Major storms
- Tornadoes
- Extreme heat
- Landslides and mudslides
- Volcanoes
- Wildfires

Please note that The Internet Public Library has stopped updating their pages. We still have many links to them, but are sadly working to remove them. Many websites and search engines have lost their funding in recent years.

As you may know, we are two retired librarians/teachers who maintain these search engines/web directories at no cost to our users, with very limited advertising. Please consider making a donation to help support us, as we pay for all server space and domain costs. If you would prefer to send a check, just send us an email for an address. THANKS!

Art and Artists

Have your students ever asked, "Who is your favorite artist?" Do you have an answer ready for them? If not, check out this artist index from the WebMuseum from Paris. (Hints: my favorites are Monet, Degas and Van Gogh.)

Meanwhile, which of the following is your favorite?

"Be the change that you wish to see in the world."
— Mahatma Gandhi

"If you want to know what a man's like, take a good look at how he treats his inferiors, not his equals."
— J.K. Rowling

"The man who does not read has no advantage over the man who cannot read."
— Mark Twain

"Always forgive your enemies; nothing annoys them so much."
— Oscar Wilde

"I like nonsense, it wakes up the brain cells. Fantasy is a necessary ingredient in living."
— Dr. Seuss
