How to Cite Resources

https://www.infotopia.info/citations.html

Are your students working on research papers and need help with citing their online or print resources? Try out any of our recommended citation makers on Infotopia. They are free and the citations can be copied and pasted into a bibliography easily. In addition, the Purdue Online Writing Lab and the IPL2 Style and Writing Guide offer tips for conducting research, using research and citing sources.

KnightCite

Our favorite free citation maker is KnightCite, but you may prefer another. Some schools subscribe to citation creators, so be sure to   check with your campus   librarian.

Welcome!

Welcome to the students and teachers of Sao Paolo, Brazil! We're happy you are using Infotopia.info, Infotrek.info and Kidtopia.info for your research needs!

Kidtopia

If your elementary students are researching animals, including amphibians, arthropods, echinoderms, fish, mollusks, mammals, reptiles, sharks, and more, check out Kidtopia's recommended resources.

Not only will they find information about each animal, we also include quotations about animals, animal sounds, animal habitats, endangered species, and more for children who are beginning to do research.
